The Behaviour Support Service offers a range of support interventions which can help children on their way to successful learning alongside their peers. Aimed at realising success through early intervention, team members from the Service provide you with the strategies to support children with a range of difficulties. The Service works with all key stages from Early Years to Key Stage 4. We offer a flexible approach to meet the individual needs of both the pupil and the educational setting. We focus on barriers to learning such as: an inability to manage anger or resolve conflict; lack of emotional literacy and social skills; playground behaviour; bullying and friendship issues; low self-esteem and lack of assertiveness; concerns around transitions from school to school. We also support staff with the management of an individual pupil's behaviour.

Key benefits

• A comprehensive package of support to help your school manage behavioural issues – giving each child the opportunity to engage positively with learning, and to succeed.

• The early intervention model means that support can be given at the right time. Managing behavioural difficulties earlier on will help avoid later problems of escalation or exclusion.

• The service helps to manage a wide range of behavioural difficulties children may experience; it helps children understand and manage their behaviour – from anger management and bullying, to self-esteem and assertiveness.

• We work with individuals, pairs, and groups of children in their educational setting to help them better manage their own behaviour and became valued school members.

• Our partnership models include provision of in-school training for your staff, so we can help you grow your own in-house capacity to manage behavioural issues.

A valuable package for education providers, which gives support to help you manage children with behavioural difficulties. The strategies offered will help children engage positively with learning, raise attainment and build capacity in your setting.
Team members from the Behaviour Support Service work with pupils and staff in your educational setting, providing a package of support. Working in partnership, we help pupils grow the necessary skills to make the right decisions and encourage them to make positive choices.

Our approach includes direct work with individuals, pairs, and groups of children to help them better-manage their own behaviour. We also provide advice, support and training to school staff to help you increase your own in-house capacity to help you meet the needs of pupils who are challenging, including strategies for coping with specific behaviours.

We work in partnership with other agencies to help your school identify specific pupils’ needs, and with the county inclusion co-ordinators to provide support for managed moves and transition between schools and key stages. Once an intervention is underway, you will receive a weekly report and a half-termly review is undertaken to measure progress against the agreed targets.

Please note, this service is provided as ‘de-delegated’ service to Suffolk local-authority maintained schools, and is chargeable for academies, independents and free schools.
